As our research cruise was coming to an end I went on the final watch of the trip at 0000 hrs. Since we were steaming en route to the ship's homeport in Woods Hole, MA., no research took place. We cleaned the science lab and science deck for a few hours. We arrived in port at Woods Hole at approx. 0700 hrs. After docking, I took some final photographs, exchanged e-mail addresses and said my good-byes.
